

Click Here

Enola Holmes has become one of the most popular movies on Netflix today because of the quality of storytelling and acting that its two movies have been able to show over the last two years. Of course, this movie franchise is only going to get bigger because of the success that its movies were able to garner. This means that fans of the movies might want to dive deeper into the Enola Holmes lore by reading the source material. Like a lot of different movies and series today, Enola Holmes was adapted from the books of American author Nancy Springer, who was able to add a twist to the classic Arthur Conan Doyle by adding a younger sister to the mix. In that regard, the entire storyline focuses more on Enola than on her older brother Sherlock. So, if you're looking to read the Enola Holmes books to learn more about her story, we are here to talk about the reading order. There are nine Enola Holmes books in total. The first book was released in 2006 and the last book in the reading order so far was released in 2022. All books focus on Enola Holes, the younger sister of the already popular detective Sherlock Holmes. Having said that, let's take a look at the reading order of the Enola Holmes books. The Case of the Missing Marquess (2006) The Case of the Left-Handed Lady (2007) The Case of the Bizarre Bouquets (2008) The Case of the Peculiar Pink Fan (2008) The Case of the Cryptic Crinoline (2009) The Case of the Gypsy Goodbye (2010) Enola Holmes and the Boy in Buttons (2021) Enola Holmes and the Black Barouche (2021) Enola Holmes and the Elegant Escapade (2022) The best way to read Enola Holmes books is in release order which is chronological order as well. Every subsequent book follows the narrative of the last book, like the movies. The good thing about the Enola Holmes books is that they aren't necessarily difficult to read because they were meant for teenagers and young adults. And another good thing about these books is that you don't even need to read them in the correct order because you only have to follow the release order. The first book of the Enola Holmes Mysteries series is The Case of the Missing Marquess, which was published back in 2006. This book was what introduced younger audiences to Enola Holmes, the 14-year-old younger sister of the famous detective Sherlock Holmes. And this is also the book that was adapted by Netflix into the successful Enola Holmes movie. As the movie shows, this book follows the story of Enola as she escaped from finishing school so that she could go looking for her missing mother. And along the way, she met Lord Tewkesbury, who was being chased by kidnappers that became the subject of intrigue for Enola. While the first Enola Holmes movie followed the first book in the Enola Holmes novel series, Enola Holmes 2 had a different story as it focused more on the events surrounding the Matchgirls' Strike. Nevertheless, the second book of the novel series is called The Case of the Left-Handed Lady, which follows Enola's exploits as she goes searching for Lady Cecily. In this book, Enola had become an amateur detective tasked with searching for a left-handed girl who suddenly disappeared. This is where it is similar to Enola Holmes 2 but is quite different because of the fact that, in this book, Enola is trying to evade her older brother Sherlock instead of actually working with him. Yet to be adapted by Netflix, the third book in the series is The Case of the Bizarre Bouquets, which follows Enola still hiding from Sherlock and Mycroft, who both want to bring her back to finishing school. However, Enola had to take on a new case when she discovered that Dr. Watson, her brother's good friend and right-hand man, was missing. In that regard, this took her on an adventure where she discovered in the Watson residence a bizarre bouquet of flowers that all represent death. As such, she believed that Watson's life might be in danger, as she acted quickly to save him from certain death. The fourth book in the series is The Case of the Peculiar Pink Fan. This book sees the return of Lady Cecily as an important character as she is the one that Enola now has to help in her current case. Lady Cecily became a hostage in an orphanage because she was set to be married against her will. In that regard, Enola now has to find a way to help her friend escape from an ordeal that she has no control. The Case of the Cryptic Crinoline is the fifth book in the Enola Holmes series and is one that follows another missing person case. This time, the one who is missing is Mrs. Tupper, who has been kidnapped. In that regard, Enola now has to find a way to get Mrs. Tupper back. What makes this case a mystery is the fact that her old crinoline dress is somehow linked to Florence Nightingale, who we all know is historically the founder of modern nursing. Originally, The Case of the Gypsy Goodbye was supposed to be the final book of the entire Enola Holmes mystery novels, as Nancy Springer was supposed to end the series in six books. Nevertheless, the success of the movie convinced her to write more books about her famous character. The Case of the Gypsy Goodbye follows the story of Enola as she takes on the missing case of Lady Blancheffeur del Campo. However, Enola also received a message from her long-lost mother. On top of that, this is also the book that allows us to see Enola finally trying to find a way to reconcile with her two brothers. Released in 2021, Enola Holmes and the Boy in Buttons is the book that was supposed to be the midway story between the sixth and seventh novels. In this book, Enola now has a porter named Joddy, who wears a uniform full of buttons and is often substituted by her younger brother named Paddy, whenever he is sick. However, Paddy ends up disappearing one day from the job, and it is up to Enola to try to find this while the older brother Joddy is still ill. She has to travel to a rougher part of the city of London to find the buttons on the uniform but not the boy. As such, she has to find a way to save the missing boy, who she believes is in danger. Enola Holmes and the Black Barouche is the seventh book of the series. In this book, she is now 15 years old and is finally an independent woman that is now living all on her own in the big city of London as a professional sleuth. And the case that she now has to tackle involves Miss Letitia Glover, who shows up on Sherlock's doorstep to try and find a way to find her twin sister. Enola steps up to take the case instead of her brother, as she learns that the missing sister is Felicity Glover, who married the Earl of Dunhench and had already died. But Letitia believes that her sister is still alive. And it is now up to Enola to find the truth behind this case. The eighth book in the Enola Holmes series is Enola Holmes and the Elegant Escapade, which was published in August 2022. In this book, Lady Cecily returns as an important character as she is once again in danger and is in need of her friend Enola's help. As such, Enola helps Lady Cecily escape from her controlling father and is taken to her secret office. But the problem right now is that Sherlock was hired by Cecily's mother to find them, and this ends up with Cecily disappearing from both Enola and Sherlock. As such, Enola now has to find Lady Cecily again, as she believes that her dual personality can get her into trouble. Of course, she has to contend with her own brother, who was hired to bring Lady Cecily to her father. You can get all the books in the series on Amazon. It's a great preparation for all the magnificent movies to come! To follow the storyline and the growth of the characters, you should read the books in the correct order. Luckily for you, we've provided you with the release order of the books which is coincidentally the chronological order as well. Yes, the books are connected, each new installment in the series follows the same characters and builds upon the greater central story – establishing Enola as a detective who is on par with her brother. Original Nancy Springer wanted to write as many books as possible about Enola Holmes until she eventually settled on 6 books to wrap up the story of this brilliant character. Now, with Enola being brought to the big screens and character already being resurrected for additional books, there's no reason to believe we won't get more Enola Holmes books. Of course, this is just a hunch as nothing official has been stated. Looking for some new chapter books for kids and teens to read in 2024? Well look no further as this book list will give you all the must-read, new chapter books all tween readers will devour in 2024. My tween readers are asking to be taken forward to find out how to get the big city of London as a professional sleuth. And the case that she now has to tackle involves Miss Letitia Glover, who shows up on Sherlock's doorstep to try and find a way to find her twin sister. Enola steps up to take the case instead of her brother, as she learns that the missing sister is Felicity Glover, who married the Earl of Dunhench and had already died. But Letitia believes that her sister is still alive. And it is now up to Enola to find the truth behind this case. The eighth book in the Enola Holmes series is Enola Holmes and the Elegant Escapade, which was published in August 2022. In this book, Lady Cecily returns as an important character as she is once again in danger and is in need of her friend Enola's help. As such, Enola helps Lady Cecily escape from her controlling father and is taken to her secret office. But the problem right now is that Sherlock was hired by Cecily's mother to find them, and this ends up with Cecily disappearing from both Enola and Sherlock. As such, Enola now has to find Lady Cecily again, as she believes that her dual personality can get her into trouble. Of course, she has to contend with her own brother, who was hired to bring Lady Cecily to her father. You can get all the books in the series on Amazon. It's a great preparation for all the magnificent movies to come! To follow the storyline and the growth of the characters, you should read the books in the correct order. Luckily for you, we've provided you with the release order of the books which is coincidentally the chronological order as well. Yes, the books are connected, each new installment in the series follows the same characters and builds upon the greater central story – establishing Enola as a detective who is on par with her brother. Original Nancy Springer wanted to write as many books as possible about Enola Holmes until she eventually settled on 6 books to wrap up the story of this brilliant character. Now, with Enola being brought to the big screens and character already being resurrected for additional books, there's no reason to believe we won't get more Enola Holmes books. Of course, this is just a hunch as nothing official has been stated. 2022 mystery film by Harry Bradbeer Enola Holmes Official release posterDirected byHarry BradbeerScreenplay byJack ThorneStory by Harry Bradbeer Jack Thorne Based on The Enola Holmes Mysteriesby Nancy SpringerProduced by Mary Parent Alex Garcia Ali Mendes Millie Bobby Brown Robert Brown Starring Millie Bobby Brown Henry Cavill Helena Bonham Carter CinematographyGiles NuttgensEdited byAdam BosmanMusic byDaniel Pemberton[1]Productioncompanies Legendary Pictures PCMA Productions Distributed byNetflixRelease date November 4, 2022 (2022-11-04) Running time129 minutesCountries United Kingdom United States LanguageEnglishEnola Holmes 2 is a 2022 mystery film and the sequel to the 2020 film Enola Holmes, both of which star Millie Bobby Brown as the title character, the teenage sister of the already-famous Victorian-era detective Sherlock Holmes. The film is directed by Harry Bradbeer from a screenplay by Jack Thorne that adapts the book series The Enola Holmes Mysteries by Nancy Springer. Unlike the film's predecessor, it does not adapt one of Springer's novels and instead takes real-life inspiration from the matchgirls' strike.[2] In addition to Brown, Henry Cavill, Louis Partridge, Susie Wokoma, Adeel Akhtar, and Helena Bonham Carter reprise their supporting roles, while David Thevlis and Sharon Duncan-Brewster join the cast. Filming began in Autumn 2021 and ended in January 2022. Enola Holmes 2 was released on November 4, 2022, by Netflix. The film received positive reviews from critics and topped viewership charts in 93 countries. A third instalment is in production. Enola Holmes opens her own detective agency, but struggles to get clients unlike her famous detective brother Sherlock Holmes. A factory girl named Bessie asks Enola to help find her missing sister Sarah Chapman. Bessie takes Enola to the match factory, which is experiencing a deadly typhus epidemic, and encounters Mae, who worked alongside the sister. Enola follows Mae to the Paragon Theatre where Mae and Sarah work as dancers. She finds a letter written by Sarah to a secret lover. On her way home, Enola comes across a drunken Sherlock and brings him home to 221B Baker Street. He is struggling to solve his latest case involving the blackmail of government officials, but he cannot trace the owner of the accounts where the money is sent. Enola deduces that the poem is a code leading to a home in Whitechapel. There, she finds Mae dying of a stab wound. Enola discovers a piece of sheet music in Mae's dress but is interrupted by Superintendent Grail who accuses her of murder. Enola escapes to Sherlock's flat and deduces that Sarah's lover will be at a ball hosted by the Lyon family. There, she meets Cicely, a friendly noblewoman, and Mira Troy, secretary to Treasury Minister Lord Charles McIntyre. Enola meets Tewkesbury, who teaches her how to dance so she can find an opportunity to get closer to William Lyon, the son of the match factory's owner and Sarah's lover. Meanwhile, Sherlock pieces together a message in the blackmail scheme from its mastermind Moriarty. Enola is arrested by Grail before she can speak with William, but Sherlock enlists their mother Eudoria and her fellow radical suffragette Edith to break Enola out of prison. While visiting Tewkesbury, Enola realizes that Sarah is Cicely and that Mae, and William had discovered that white phosphorus, not typhus, was killing the workers and were planning to expose it. Tewkesbury and Enola confess their love for each other. They head to the factory, where they meet Sherlock and find William dead with a corner of the sheet music. The three deduce Lord McIntyre had struck a deal with William's father to use cheap phosphorus to increase profit. The group heads to the Paragon after realizing the full sheet music was a map of the theatre. There, Sarah confesses Enola's findings and admits she and William needed Tewkesbury's help to expose McIntyre. Grail and several policemen arrive holding Bessie hostage, but she breaks free and a fight ensues, resulting in Enola defeating Grail and causing him to fall to death. Lord McIntyre arrives with Lestrade. He burns the evidence of the dealings and attempts to have Sarah arrested, but Sherlock and Enola deduce that Mira Troy is Moriarty and the blackmail and murder. Ena is taken into custody. Sarah, Bessie, and Enola inform the factory's match girls of the events and convince them to strike. McIntyre is arrested with Tewkesbury's help, and Mira escapes police custody. Enola sets up a new office at Edith's shop. Tewkesbury has begun courting Enola in earnest and he invites Enola to a ball. In a mid-credits scene, Sherlock is visited by a man who is under the impression that Sherlock is seeking a Ratmate. Sherlock realizes that he has been set up by this Enola, and ultimately welcomes the man in, who introduces him as Dr. John Watson. Millie Bobby Brown as Enola Holmes, the youngest of the Holmes siblings who has started her own detective agency. Enola occasionally breaks the fourth wall and talks directly to the audience. Sofia Stavrinou as young Enola Henry Cavill as Sherlock Holmes, a renowned private investigator and Enola's brother John Parshall as young Sherlock David Thevlis as Grail, a corrupt police superintendent. Louis Partridge as Tewkesbury, a friend of Enola who has become a member of the House of Lords. Susie Wokoma as Edith, a friend of Enola and Sherlock who runs a secret martial arts class. Adeel Akhtar as Inspector Lestrade, a police inspector who assists Sherlock. Sharon Duncan-Brewster as Mira Troy, the secretary to Lord McIntyre. Helena Bonham Carter as Eudoria Holmes, the mother of Enola and Sherlock. Himesh Patel as Dr. Watson Hannah Dodd as Sarah Chapman, a missing matchstick factory worker. Abbie Hren as Mae, a co-worker of Sarah at the matchstick factory. Róisín Monaghan as Hilda Lyon, the wife of Henry. Gabriel Tierney as William Lyon, the boyfriend of Sarah. Catriona Chandler as Agatha Gowerdale David Westhead as Henry Lyon, the proprietor of the matchstick factory and the father of William. Tim McMullan as Charles McIntyre, the Chancellor of the Exchequer. Serrana Su-Ling Bliss as Bessie Chapman, the fictional character who inspired the novel. Enola Holmes 2 is a 2022 mystery film and the sequel to the 2020 film Enola Holmes, both of which star Millie Bobby Brown as the title character, the teenage sister of the already-famous Victorian-era detective Sherlock Holmes. The film is directed by Harry Bradbeer from a screenplay by Jack Thorne that adapts the book series The Enola Holmes Mysteries by Nancy Springer. Unlike the film's predecessor, it does not adapt one of Springer's novels and instead takes real-life inspiration from the matchgirls' strike.[2] In addition to Brown, Henry Cavill, Louis Partridge, Susie Wokoma, Adeel Akhtar, and Helena Bonham Carter reprise their supporting roles, while David Thevlis and Sharon Duncan-Brewster join the cast. Filming began in Autumn 2021 and ended in January 2022. Enola Holmes 2 was released on November 4, 2022, by Netflix. The film received positive reviews from critics and topped viewership charts in 93 countries. A third instalment is in production. Enola Holmes opens her own detective agency, but struggles to get clients unlike her famous detective brother Sherlock Holmes. A factory girl named Bessie asks Enola to help find her missing sister Sarah Chapman. Bessie takes Enola to the match factory, which is experiencing a deadly typhus epidemic, and encounters Mae, who worked alongside the sister. Enola follows Mae to the Paragon Theatre where Mae and Sarah work as dancers. She finds a letter written by Sarah to a secret lover. On her way home, Enola comes across a drunken Sherlock and brings him home to 221B Baker Street. He is struggling to solve his latest case involving the blackmail of government officials, but he cannot trace the owner of the accounts where the money is sent. Enola deduces that the poem is a code leading to a home in Whitechapel. There, she finds Mae dying of a stab wound. Enola discovers a piece of sheet music in Mae's dress but is interrupted by Superintendent Grail who accuses her of murder. Enola escapes to Sherlock's flat and deduces that Sarah's lover will be at a ball hosted by the Lyon family. There, she meets Cicely, a friendly noblewoman, and Mira Troy, secretary to Treasury Minister Lord Charles McIntyre. Enola meets Tewkesbury, who teaches her how to dance so she can find an opportunity to get closer to William Lyon, the son of the match factory's owner and Sarah's lover. Meanwhile, Sherlock pieces together a message in the blackmail scheme from its mastermind Moriarty. Enola is arrested by Grail before she can speak with William, but Sherlock enlists their mother Eudoria and her fellow radical suffragette Edith to break Enola out of prison. While visiting Tewkesbury, Enola realizes that Sarah is Cicely and that Mae, and William had discovered that white phosphorus, not typhus, was killing the workers and were planning to expose it. Tewkesbury and Enola confess their love for each other. They head to the factory, where they meet Sherlock and find William dead with a corner of the sheet music. The three deduce Lord McIntyre had struck a deal with William's father to use cheap phosphorus to increase profit. The group heads to the Paragon after realizing the full sheet music was a map of the theatre. There, Sarah confesses Enola's findings and admits she and William needed Tewkesbury's help to expose McIntyre. Grail and several policemen arrive holding Bessie hostage, but she breaks free and a fight ensues, resulting in Enola defeating Grail and causing him to fall to death. Lord McIntyre arrives with Lestrade. He burns the evidence of the dealings and attempts to have Sarah arrested, but Sherlock and Enola deduce that Mira Troy is Moriarty and the blackmail and murder. Ena is taken into custody. Sarah, Bessie, and Enola inform the factory's match girls of the events and convince them to strike. McIntyre is arrested with Tewkesbury's help, and Mira escapes police custody. Enola sets up a new office at Edith's shop. Tewkesbury has begun courting Enola in earnest and he invites Enola to a ball. In a mid-credits scene, Sherlock is visited by a man who is under the impression that Sherlock is seeking a Ratmate. Sherlock realizes that he has been set up by this Enola, and ultimately welcomes the man in, who introduces him as Dr. John Watson. Millie Bobby Brown as Enola Holmes, the youngest of the Holmes siblings who has started her own detective agency. Enola occasionally breaks the fourth wall and talks directly to the audience. Sofia Stavrinou as young Enola Henry Cavill as Sherlock Holmes, a renowned private investigator and Enola's brother John Parshall as young Sherlock David Thevlis as Grail, a corrupt police superintendent. Louis Partridge as Tewkesbury, a friend of Enola who has become a member of the House of Lords. Susie Wokoma as Edith, a friend of Enola and Sherlock who runs a secret martial arts class. Adeel Akhtar as Inspector Lestrade, a police inspector who assists Sherlock. Sharon Duncan-Brewster as Mira Troy, the secretary to Lord McIntyre. Helena Bonham Carter as Eudoria Holmes, the mother of Enola and Sherlock. Himesh Patel as Dr. Watson Hannah Dodd as Sarah Chapman, a missing matchstick factory worker. Abbie Hren as Mae, a co-worker of Sarah at the matchstick factory. Róisín Monaghan as Hilda Lyon, the wife of Henry. Gabriel Tierney as William Lyon, the boyfriend of Sarah. Catriona Chandler as Agatha Gowerdale David Westhead as Henry Lyon, the proprietor of the matchstick factory and the father of William. Tim McMullan as Charles McIntyre, the Chancellor of the Exchequer. Serrana Su-Ling Bliss as Bessie Chapman, the fictional character who inspired the novel. Enola Holmes 2 is a 2022 mystery film and the sequel to the 2020 film Enola Holmes, both of which star Millie Bobby Brown as the title character, the teenage sister of the already-famous Victorian-era detective Sherlock Holmes. The film is directed by Harry Bradbeer from a screenplay by Jack Thorne that adapts the book series The Enola Holmes Mysteries by Nancy Springer. Unlike the film's predecessor, it does not adapt one of Springer's novels and instead takes real-life inspiration from the matchgirls' strike.[2] In addition to Brown, Henry Cavill, Louis Partridge, Susie Wokoma, Adeel Akhtar, and Helena Bonham Carter reprise their supporting roles, while David Thevlis and Sharon Duncan-Brewster join the cast. Filming began in Autumn 2021 and ended in January 2022. Enola Holmes 2 was released on November 4, 2022, by Netflix. The film received positive reviews from critics and topped viewership charts in 93 countries. A third instalment is in production. Enola Holmes opens her own detective agency, but struggles to get clients unlike her famous detective brother Sherlock Holmes. A factory girl named Bessie asks Enola to help find her missing sister Sarah Chapman. Bessie takes Enola to the match factory, which is experiencing a deadly typhus epidemic, and encounters Mae, who worked alongside the sister. Enola follows Mae to the Paragon Theatre where Mae and Sarah work as dancers. She finds a letter written by Sarah to a secret lover. On her way home, Enola comes across a drunken Sherlock and brings him home to 221B Baker Street. He is struggling to solve his latest case involving the blackmail of government officials, but he cannot trace the owner of the accounts where the money is sent. Enola deduces that the poem is a code leading to a home in Whitechapel. There, she finds Mae dying of a stab wound. Enola discovers a piece of sheet music in Mae's dress but is interrupted by Superintendent Grail who accuses her of murder. Enola escapes to Sherlock's flat and deduces that Sarah's lover will be at a ball hosted by the Lyon family. There, she meets Cicely, a friendly noblewoman, and Mira Troy, secretary to Treasury Minister Lord Charles McIntyre. Enola meets Tewkesbury, who teaches her how to dance so she can find an opportunity to get closer to William Lyon, the son of the match factory's owner and Sarah's lover. Meanwhile, Sherlock pieces together a message in the blackmail scheme from its mastermind Moriarty. Enola is arrested by Grail before she can speak with William, but Sherlock enlists their mother Eudoria and her fellow radical suffragette Edith to break Enola out of prison. While visiting Tewkesbury, Enola realizes that Sarah is Cicely and that Mae, and William had discovered that white phosphorus, not typhus, was killing the workers and were planning to expose it. Tewkesbury and Enola confess their love for each other. They head to the factory, where they meet Sherlock and find William dead with a corner of the sheet music. The three deduce Lord McIntyre had struck a deal with William's father to use cheap phosphorus to increase profit. The group heads to the Paragon after realizing the full sheet music was a map of the theatre. There, Sarah confesses Enola's findings and admits she and William needed Tewkesbury's help to expose McIntyre. Grail and several policemen arrive holding Bessie hostage, but she breaks free and a fight ensues, resulting in Enola defeating Grail and causing him to fall to death. Lord McIntyre arrives with Lestrade. He burns the evidence of the dealings and attempts to have Sarah arrested, but Sherlock and Enola deduce that Mira Troy is Moriarty and the blackmail and murder. Ena is taken into custody. Sarah, Bessie, and Enola inform the factory's match girls of the events and convince them to strike. McIntyre is arrested with Tewkesbury's help, and Mira escapes police custody. Enola sets up a new office at Edith's shop. Tewkesbury has begun courting Enola in earnest and he invites Enola to a ball. In a mid-credits scene, Sherlock is visited by a man who is under the impression that Sherlock is seeking a Ratmate. Sherlock realizes that he has been set up by this Enola, and ultimately welcomes the man in, who introduces him as Dr. John Watson. Millie Bobby Brown as Enola Holmes, the youngest of the Holmes siblings who has started her own detective agency. Enola occasionally breaks the fourth wall and talks directly to the audience. Sofia Stavrinou as young Enola Henry Cavill as Sherlock Holmes, a renowned private investigator and Enola's brother John Parshall as young Sherlock David Thevlis as Grail, a corrupt police superintendent. Louis Partridge as Tewkesbury, a friend of Enola who has become a member of the House of Lords. Susie Wokoma as Edith, a friend of Enola and Sherlock who runs a secret martial arts class. Adeel Akhtar as Inspector Lestrade, a police inspector who assists Sherlock. Sharon Duncan-Brewster as Mira Troy, the secretary to Lord McIntyre. Helena Bonham Carter as Eudoria Holmes, the mother of Enola and Sherlock. Himesh Patel as Dr. Watson Hannah Dodd as Sarah Chapman, a missing matchstick factory worker. Abbie Hren as Mae, a co-worker of Sarah at the matchstick factory. Róisín Monaghan as Hilda Lyon, the wife of Henry. Gabriel Tierney as William Lyon, the boyfriend of Sarah. Catriona Chandler as Agatha Gowerdale David Westhead as Henry Lyon, the proprietor of the matchstick factory and the father of William. Tim McMullan as Charles McIntyre, the Chancellor of the Exchequer. Serrana Su-Ling Bliss as Bessie Chapman, the fictional character who inspired the novel. Enola Holmes 2 is a 2022 mystery film and the sequel to the 2020 film Enola Holmes, both of which star Millie Bobby Brown as the title character, the teenage sister of the already-famous Victorian-era detective Sherlock Holmes. The film is directed by Harry Bradbeer from a screenplay by Jack Thorne that adapts the book series The Enola Holmes Mysteries by Nancy Springer. Unlike the film's predecessor, it does not adapt one of Springer's novels and instead takes real-life inspiration from the matchgirls' strike.[2] In addition to Brown, Henry Cavill, Louis Partridge, Susie Wokoma, Adeel Akhtar, and Helena Bonham Carter reprise their supporting roles, while David Thevlis and Sharon Duncan-Brewster join the cast. Filming began in Autumn 2021 and ended in January 2022. Enola Holmes 2 was released on November 4, 2022, by Netflix. The film received positive reviews from critics and topped viewership charts in 93 countries. A third instalment is in production. Enola Holmes opens her own detective agency, but struggles to get clients unlike her famous detective brother Sherlock Holmes. A factory girl named Bessie asks Enola to help find her missing sister Sarah Chapman. Bessie takes Enola to the match factory, which is experiencing a deadly typhus epidemic, and encounters Mae, who worked alongside the sister. Enola follows Mae to the Paragon Theatre where Mae and Sarah work as dancers. She finds a letter written by Sarah to a secret lover. On her way home, Enola comes across a drunken Sherlock and brings him home to 221B Baker Street. He is struggling to solve his latest case involving the blackmail of government officials, but he cannot trace the owner of the accounts where the money is sent. Enola deduces that the poem is a code leading to a home in Whitechapel. There, she finds Mae dying of a stab wound. Enola discovers a piece of sheet music in Mae's dress but is interrupted by Superintendent Grail who accuses her of murder. Enola escapes to Sherlock's flat and deduces that Sarah's lover will be at a ball hosted by the Lyon family. There, she meets Cicely, a friendly noblewoman, and Mira Troy, secretary to Treasury Minister Lord Charles McIntyre. Enola meets Tewkesbury, who teaches her how to dance so she can find an opportunity to get closer to William Lyon, the son of the match factory's owner and Sarah's lover. Meanwhile, Sherlock pieces together a message in the blackmail scheme from its mastermind Moriarty. Enola is arrested by Grail before she can speak with William, but Sherlock enlists their mother Eudoria and her fellow radical suffragette Edith to break Enola out of prison. While visiting Tewkesbury, Enola realizes that Sarah is Cicely and that Mae, and William had discovered that white phosphorus, not typhus, was killing the workers and were planning to expose it. Tewkesbury and Enola confess their love for each other. They head to the factory, where they meet Sherlock and find William dead with a corner of the sheet music. The three deduce Lord McIntyre had struck a deal with William's father to use cheap phosphorus to increase profit. The group heads to the Paragon after realizing the full sheet music was a map of the theatre. There, Sarah confesses Enola's findings and admits she and William needed Tewkesbury's help to expose McIntyre. Grail and several policemen arrive holding Bessie hostage, but she breaks free and a fight ensues, resulting in Enola defeating Grail and causing him to fall to death. Lord McIntyre arrives with Lestrade. He burns the evidence of the dealings and attempts to have Sarah arrested, but Sherlock and Enola deduce that Mira Troy is Moriarty and the blackmail and murder. Ena is taken into custody. Sarah, Bessie, and Enola inform the factory's match girls of the events and convince them to strike. McIntyre is arrested with Tewkesbury's help, and Mira escapes police custody. Enola sets up a new office at Edith's shop. Tewkesbury has begun courting Enola in earnest and he invites Enola to a ball. In a mid-credits scene, Sherlock is visited by a man who is under the impression that Sherlock is seeking a Ratmate. Sherlock realizes that he has been set up by this Enola, and ultimately welcomes the man in, who introduces him as Dr. John Watson. Millie Bobby Brown as Enola Holmes, the youngest of the Holmes siblings who has started her own detective agency. Enola occasionally breaks the fourth wall and talks directly to the audience. Sofia Stavrinou as young Enola Henry Cavill as Sherlock Holmes, a renowned private investigator and Enola's brother John Parshall as young Sherlock David Thevlis as Grail, a corrupt police superintendent. Louis Partridge as Tewkesbury, a friend of Enola who has become a member of the House of Lords. Susie Wokoma as Edith, a friend of Enola and Sherlock who runs a secret martial arts class. Adeel Akhtar as Inspector Lestrade, a police inspector who assists Sherlock. Sharon Duncan-Brewster as Mira Troy, the secretary to Lord McIntyre. Helena Bonham Carter as Eudoria Holmes, the mother of Enola and Sherlock. Himesh Patel as Dr. Watson Hannah Dodd as Sarah Chapman, a missing matchstick factory worker. Abbie Hren as Mae, a co-worker of Sarah at the matchstick factory. Róisín Monaghan as Hilda Lyon, the wife of Henry. Gabriel Tierney as William Lyon, the boyfriend of Sarah. Catriona Chandler as Agatha Gowerdale David Westhead as Henry Lyon, the proprietor of the matchstick factory and the father of William. Tim McMullan as Charles McIntyre, the Chancellor of the Exchequer. Serrana Su-Ling Bliss as Bessie Chapman, the fictional character who inspired the novel. Enola Holmes 2 is a 2022 mystery film and the sequel to the 2020 film Enola Holmes, both of which star Millie Bobby Brown as the title character, the teenage sister of the already-famous Victorian-era detective Sherlock Holmes. The film is directed by Harry Bradbeer from a screenplay by Jack Thorne that adapts the book series The Enola Holmes Mysteries by Nancy Springer. Unlike the film's predecessor, it does not adapt one of Springer's novels and instead takes real-life inspiration from the matchgirls' strike.[2] In addition to Brown, Henry Cavill, Louis Partridge, Susie Wokoma, Adeel Akhtar, and Helena Bonham Carter reprise their supporting roles, while David Thevlis and Sharon Duncan-Brewster join the cast. Filming began in Autumn 2021 and ended in January 2022. Enola Holmes 2 was released on November 4, 2022, by Netflix. The film received positive reviews from critics and topped viewership charts in 93 countries. A third instalment is in production. Enola Holmes opens her own detective agency, but struggles to get clients unlike her famous detective brother Sherlock Holmes. A factory girl named Bessie asks Enola to help find her missing sister Sarah Chapman. Bessie takes Enola to the match factory, which is experiencing a deadly typhus epidemic, and encounters Mae, who worked alongside the sister. Enola follows Mae to the Paragon Theatre where Mae and Sarah work as dancers. She finds a letter written by Sarah to a secret lover. On her way home, Enola comes across a drunken Sherlock and brings him home to 221B Baker Street. He is struggling to solve his latest case involving the blackmail of government officials, but he cannot trace the owner of the accounts where the money is sent. Enola deduces that the poem is a code leading to a home in Whitechapel. There, she finds Mae dying of a stab wound. Enola discovers a piece of sheet music in Mae's dress but is interrupted by Superintendent Grail who accuses her of murder. Enola escapes to Sherlock's flat and deduces that Sarah's lover will be at a ball hosted by the Lyon family. There, she meets Cicely, a friendly noblewoman, and Mira Troy, secretary to Treasury Minister Lord Charles McIntyre. Enola meets Tewkesbury, who teaches her how to dance so she can find an opportunity to get closer to William Lyon, the son of the match factory's owner and Sarah's lover. Meanwhile, Sherlock pieces together a message in the blackmail scheme from its mastermind Moriarty. Enola is arrested by Grail before she can speak with William, but Sherlock enlists their mother Eudoria and her fellow radical suffragette Edith to break Enola out of prison. While visiting Tewkesbury, Enola realizes that Sarah is Cicely and that Mae, and William had discovered that white phosphorus, not typhus, was killing the workers and were planning to expose it. Tewkesbury and Enola confess their love for each other. They head to the factory, where they meet Sherlock and find William dead with a corner of the sheet music. The three deduce Lord McIntyre had struck a deal with William's father to use cheap phosphorus to increase profit. The group heads to the Paragon after realizing the full sheet music was a map of the theatre. There, Sarah confesses Enola's findings and admits she and William needed Tewkesbury's help to expose McIntyre. Grail and several policemen arrive holding Bessie hostage, but she breaks free and a fight ensues, resulting in Enola defeating Grail and causing him to fall to death. Lord McIntyre arrives with Lestrade. He burns the evidence of the dealings and attempts to have Sarah arrested, but Sherlock and Enola deduce that Mira Troy is Moriarty and the blackmail and murder. Ena is taken into custody. Sarah, Bessie, and Enola inform the factory's match girls of the events and convince them to strike. McIntyre is arrested with Tewkesbury's help, and Mira escapes police custody. Enola sets up a new office at Edith's shop. Tewkesbury has begun courting Enola in earnest and he invites Enola to a ball. In a mid-credits scene, Sherlock is visited by a man who is under the impression that Sherlock is seeking a Ratmate. Sherlock realizes that he has been set up by this Enola, and ultimately welcomes the man in, who introduces him as Dr. John Watson. Millie Bobby Brown as Enola Holmes, the youngest of the Holmes siblings who has started her own detective agency. Enola occasionally breaks the fourth wall and talks directly to the audience. Sofia Stavrinou as young Enola Henry Cavill as Sherlock Holmes, a renowned private investigator and Enola's brother John Parshall as young Sherlock David Thevlis as Grail, a corrupt police superintendent. Louis Partridge as Tewkesbury, a friend of Enola who has become a member of the House of Lords. Susie Wokoma as Edith, a friend of Enola and Sherlock who runs a secret martial arts class. Adeel Akhtar as Inspector Lestrade, a police inspector who assists Sherlock. Sharon Duncan-Brewster as Mira Troy, the secretary to Lord McIntyre. Helena Bonham Carter as Eudoria Holmes, the mother of Enola and Sherlock. Himesh Patel as Dr. Watson Hannah Dodd as Sarah Chapman, a missing matchstick factory worker. Abbie Hren as Mae, a co-worker of Sarah at the matchstick factory. Róisín Monaghan as Hilda Lyon, the wife of Henry. Gabriel Tierney as William Lyon, the boyfriend of Sarah. Catriona Chandler as Agatha Gowerdale David Westhead as Henry Lyon, the proprietor of the matchstick factory and the father of William. Tim McMullan as Charles McIntyre, the Chancellor of the Exchequer. Serrana Su-Ling Bliss as Bessie Chapman, the fictional character who inspired the novel. Enola Holmes 2 is a 2022 mystery film and the sequel to the 2020 film Enola Holmes, both of which star Millie Bobby Brown as the title character, the teenage sister of the already-famous Victorian-era detective Sherlock Holmes. The film is directed by Harry Bradbeer from a screenplay by Jack Thorne that adapts the book series The Enola Holmes Mysteries by Nancy Springer. Unlike the film's predecessor, it does not adapt one of Springer's novels and instead takes real-life inspiration from the matchgirls' strike.[2] In addition to Brown, Henry Cavill, Louis Partridge, Susie Wokoma, Adeel Akhtar, and Helena Bonham Carter reprise their supporting roles, while David Thevlis and Sharon Duncan-Brewster join the cast. Filming began in Autumn 2021 and ended in January 2022. Enola Holmes 2 was released on November 4, 2022, by Netflix. The film received positive reviews from critics and topped viewership charts in 93 countries. A third instalment is in production. Enola Holmes opens her own detective agency, but struggles to get clients unlike her famous detective brother Sherlock Holmes. A factory girl named Bessie asks Enola to help find her missing sister Sarah Chapman. Bessie takes Enola to the match factory, which is experiencing a deadly typhus epidemic, and encounters Mae, who worked alongside the sister. Enola follows Mae to the Paragon Theatre where Mae and Sarah work as dancers. She finds a letter written by Sarah to a secret lover. On her way home, Enola comes across a drunken Sherlock and brings him home to 221B Baker Street. He is struggling to solve his latest case involving the blackmail of government officials, but he cannot trace the owner of the accounts where the money is sent. Enola deduces that the poem is a code leading to a home in Whitechapel. There, she finds Mae dying of a stab wound. Enola discovers a piece of sheet music in Mae's dress but is interrupted by Superintendent Grail who accuses her of murder. Enola escapes to Sherlock's flat and deduces that Sarah's lover will be at a ball hosted by the Lyon family. There, she meets Cicely, a friendly noblewoman, and Mira Troy, secretary to Treasury Minister Lord Charles McIntyre. Enola meets Tewkesbury, who teaches her how to dance so she can find an opportunity to get closer to William Lyon, the son of the match factory's owner and Sarah's lover. Meanwhile, Sherlock pieces together a message in the blackmail scheme from its mastermind Moriarty. Enola is arrested by Grail before she can speak with William, but Sherlock enlists their mother Eudoria and her fellow radical suffragette Edith to break Enola out of prison. While visiting Tewkesbury, Enola realizes that Sarah is Cicely and that Mae, and William had discovered that white phosphorus, not typhus, was killing the workers and were planning to expose it. Tewkesbury and Enola confess their love for each other. They head to the factory, where they meet Sherlock and find William dead with a corner of the sheet music. The three deduce Lord McIntyre had struck a deal with William's father to use cheap phosphorus to increase profit. The group heads to the Paragon after realizing the full sheet music was a map of the theatre. There, Sarah confesses Enola's findings and admits she and William needed Tewkesbury's help to expose McIntyre. Grail and several policemen arrive holding Bessie hostage, but she breaks free and a fight ensues, resulting in Enola defeating Grail and causing him to fall to death. Lord McIntyre arrives with Lestrade. He burns the evidence of the dealings and attempts to have Sarah arrested, but Sherlock and Enola deduce that Mira Troy is Moriarty and the blackmail and murder. Ena is taken into custody. Sarah, Bessie, and Enola inform the factory's match girls of the events and convince them to strike. McIntyre is arrested with Tewkesbury's help, and Mira escapes police custody. Enola sets up a new office at Edith's shop. Tewkesbury has begun courting Enola in earnest and he invites Enola to a ball. In a mid-credits scene, Sherlock is visited by a man who is under the impression that Sherlock is seeking a Ratmate. Sherlock realizes that he has been set up by this Enola, and ultimately welcomes the man in, who introduces him as Dr. John Watson. Millie Bobby Brown as Enola Holmes, the youngest of the Holmes siblings who has started her own detective agency. Enola occasionally breaks the fourth wall and talks directly to the audience. Sofia Stavrinou as young Enola Henry Cavill as Sherlock Holmes, a renowned private investigator and Enola's brother John Parshall as young Sherlock David Thevlis as Grail, a corrupt police superintendent. Louis Partridge as Tewkesbury, a friend of Enola who has become a member of the House of Lords. Susie Wokoma as Edith, a friend of Enola and Sherlock who runs a secret martial arts class. Adeel Akhtar as Inspector Lestrade, a police inspector who assists Sherlock. Sharon Duncan-Brewster as Mira Troy, the secretary to Lord McIntyre. Helena Bonham Carter as Eudoria Holmes, the mother of Enola and Sherlock. Himesh Patel as Dr. Watson Hannah Dodd as Sarah Chapman, a missing matchstick factory worker. Abbie Hren as Mae, a co-worker of Sarah at the matchstick factory. Róisín Monaghan as Hilda Lyon, the wife of Henry. Gabriel Tierney as William Lyon, the boyfriend of Sarah. Catriona Chandler as Agatha Gowerdale David Westhead as Henry Lyon, the proprietor of the matchstick factory and the father of William. Tim McMullan as Charles McIntyre, the Chancellor of the Exchequer. Serrana Su-Ling Bliss as Bessie Chapman, the fictional character who inspired the novel. Enola Holmes 2 is a 2022 mystery film and the sequel to the 2020 film Enola Holmes, both of which star Millie Bobby Brown as the title character, the teenage sister of the already-famous Victorian-era detective Sherlock Holmes. The film is directed by Harry Bradbeer from a screenplay by Jack Thorne that adapts the book series The Enola Holmes Mysteries by Nancy Springer. Unlike the film's predecessor, it does not adapt one of Springer's novels and instead takes real-life inspiration from the matchgirls' strike.[2] In addition to Brown, Henry Cavill, Louis Partridge, Susie Wokoma, Adeel Akhtar, and Helena Bonham Carter reprise their supporting roles, while David Thevlis and Sharon Duncan-Brewster join the cast. Filming began in Autumn 2021 and ended in January 2022. Enola Holmes 2 was released on November 4, 2022, by Netflix. The film received positive reviews from critics and topped viewership charts in 93 countries. A third instalment is in production. Enola Holmes opens her own detective agency, but struggles to get clients unlike her famous detective brother Sherlock Holmes. A factory girl named Bessie asks Enola to help find her missing sister Sarah Chapman. Bessie takes Enola to the match factory, which is experiencing a deadly typhus epidemic, and encounters Mae, who worked alongside the sister. Enola follows Mae to the Paragon Theatre where Mae and Sarah work as dancers. She finds a letter written by Sarah to a secret lover. On her way home, Enola comes across a drunken Sherlock and brings him home to 221B Baker Street. He is struggling to solve his latest case involving the blackmail of government officials, but he cannot trace the owner of the accounts where the money is sent. Enola deduces that the poem is a code leading to a home in Whitechapel. There, she finds Mae dying of a stab wound. Enola discovers a piece of sheet music in Mae's dress but is interrupted by Superintendent Grail who accuses her of murder. Enola escapes to Sherlock's flat and deduces that Sarah's lover will be at a ball hosted by the Lyon family. There, she meets Cicely, a friendly noblewoman, and Mira Troy, secretary to Treasury Minister Lord Charles McIntyre. Enola meets Tewkesbury, who teaches her how to dance so she can find an opportunity to get closer to William Lyon, the son of the match factory's owner and Sarah's lover. Meanwhile, Sherlock pieces together a message in the blackmail scheme from its mastermind Moriarty. Enola is arrested by Grail before she can speak with William, but Sherlock enlists their mother Eudoria and her fellow radical suffragette Edith to break Enola out of prison. While visiting Tewkesbury, Enola realizes that Sarah is Cicely and that Mae, and William had discovered that white phosphorus, not typhus, was killing the workers and were planning to expose it. Tewkesbury and Enola confess their love for each other. They head to the factory, where they meet Sherlock and find William dead with a corner of the sheet music. The three deduce Lord McIntyre had struck a deal with William's father to use cheap phosphorus to increase profit. The group heads to the Paragon after realizing the full sheet music was a map of the theatre. There, Sarah confesses Enola's findings and admits she and William needed Tewkesbury's help to expose McIntyre. Grail and several policemen arrive holding Bessie hostage, but she breaks free and a fight ensues, resulting in Enola defeating Grail and causing him to fall to death. Lord McIntyre arrives with Lestrade. He burns the evidence of the dealings and attempts to have Sarah arrested, but Sherlock and Enola deduce that Mira Troy is Moriarty and the blackmail and murder. Ena is taken into custody. Sarah, Bessie, and Enola inform the factory's match girls of the events and convince them to strike. McIntyre is arrested with Tewkesbury's help, and Mira escapes police custody. Enola sets up a new office at Edith's shop. Tewkesbury has begun courting Enola in earnest and he invites Enola to a ball. In a mid-credits scene, Sherlock is visited by a man who is under the impression that Sherlock is seeking a Ratmate. Sherlock realizes that he has been set up by this Enola, and ultimately welcomes the man in, who introduces him as Dr. John Watson. Millie Bobby Brown as Enola Holmes, the youngest of the Holmes siblings who has started her own detective agency. Enola occasionally breaks the fourth wall and talks directly to the audience. Sofia Stavrinou as young Enola Henry Cavill as Sherlock Holmes, a renowned private investigator and Enola's brother John Parshall as young Sherlock David Thevlis as Grail, a corrupt police superintendent. Louis Partridge as Tewkesbury, a friend of Enola who has become a member of the House of Lords. Susie Wokoma as Edith, a friend of Enola and Sherlock who runs a secret martial arts class. Adeel Akhtar as Inspector Lestrade, a police inspector who assists Sherlock. Sharon Duncan-Brewster as Mira Troy, the secretary to Lord McIntyre. Helena Bonham Carter as Eudoria Holmes, the mother of Enola and Sherlock. Himesh Patel as Dr. Watson Hannah Dodd as Sarah Chapman, a missing matchstick factory worker. Abbie Hren as Mae, a co-worker of Sarah at the matchstick factory. Róisín Monaghan as Hilda Lyon, the wife of Henry. Gabriel Tierney as William Lyon, the boyfriend of Sarah. Catriona Chandler as Agatha Gowerdale David Westhead as Henry Lyon, the proprietor of the matchstick factory and the father of William. Tim McMullan as Charles McIntyre, the Chancellor of the Exchequer. Serrana Su-Ling Bliss as Bessie Chapman, the fictional character who inspired the novel. Enola Holmes 2 is a 2022 mystery film and the sequel to the 2020 film Enola Holmes, both of which star Millie Bobby Brown as the title character, the teenage sister of the already-famous Victorian-era detective Sherlock Holmes. The film is directed by Harry Bradbeer from a screenplay by Jack Thorne that adapts the book series The Enola Holmes Mysteries by Nancy Springer. Unlike the film's predecessor, it does not adapt one of Springer's novels and instead takes real-life inspiration from the matchgirls' strike.[2] In addition to Brown, Henry Cavill, Louis Partridge, Susie Wokoma, Adeel Akhtar, and Helena Bonham Carter reprise their supporting roles, while David Thevlis and Sharon Duncan-Brewster join the cast. Filming began in Autumn 2021 and ended in January 2022. Enola Holmes 2 was released on November 4, 2022, by Netflix. The film received positive reviews from critics and topped viewership charts in 93 countries. A third instalment is in production. Enola Holmes opens her own detective agency, but struggles to get clients unlike her famous detective brother Sherlock Holmes. A factory girl named Bessie asks Enola to help find her missing sister Sarah Chapman. Bessie takes Enola to the match factory, which is experiencing a deadly typhus epidemic, and encounters Mae, who worked alongside the sister. Enola follows Mae to the Paragon Theatre where Mae and Sarah work as dancers. She finds a letter written by Sarah to a secret lover. On her way home, Enola comes across a drunken Sherlock and brings him home to 221B Baker Street. He is struggling to solve his latest case involving the blackmail of government officials, but he cannot trace the owner of the accounts where the money is sent. Enola deduces that the poem is a code leading to a home in Whitechapel. There, she finds Mae dying of a stab wound. Enola discovers a piece of sheet music in Mae's dress but is interrupted by Superintendent Grail who accuses her of murder. Enola escapes to Sherlock's flat and deduces that Sarah's lover will be at a ball hosted by the Lyon family. There, she meets Cicely, a friendly noblewoman, and Mira Troy, secretary to Treasury Minister Lord Charles McIntyre. Enola meets Tewkesbury, who teaches her how to dance so she can find an opportunity to get closer to William Lyon, the son of the match factory's owner and Sarah's lover. Meanwhile, Sherlock pieces together a message in the blackmail scheme from its mastermind Moriarty. Enola is arrested by Grail before she can speak with William, but Sherlock enlists their mother Eudoria and her fellow radical suffragette Edith to break Enola out of prison. While visiting Tewkesbury, Enola realizes that Sarah is Cicely and that Mae, and William had discovered that white phosphorus, not typhus, was killing the workers and were planning to expose it. Tewkesbury and Enola confess their love for each other. They head to the factory, where they meet Sherlock and find William dead with a corner of the sheet music. The three deduce Lord McIntyre had struck a deal with William's father to use cheap phosphorus to increase profit. The group heads to the Paragon after realizing the full sheet music was a map of the theatre. There, Sarah confesses Enola's findings and admits she and William needed Tewkesbury's help to expose McIntyre. Grail and several policemen arrive holding Bessie hostage, but she breaks free and a fight ensues, resulting in Enola defeating Grail and causing him to fall to death. Lord McIntyre arrives with Lestrade. He burns the evidence of the dealings and attempts to have Sarah arrested, but Sherlock and Enola deduce that Mira Troy is Moriarty and the blackmail and murder. Ena is taken into custody. Sarah, Bessie, and Enola inform the factory's match girls of the events and convince them to strike. McIntyre is arrested with Tewkesbury's help, and Mira escapes police custody. Enola sets up a new office at Edith's shop. Tewkesbury has begun courting Enola in earnest and he invites Enola to a ball. In a mid-credits scene, Sherlock is visited by a man who is under the impression that Sherlock is seeking a Rat original on November 2, 2022. Retrieved November 3, 2022. ^ Kit, Borys (May 13, 2021). "Millie Bobby Brown, Henry Cavill Returning for "Enola Holmes" Sequel". The Hollywood Reporter. Archived from the original on May 13, 2021. Retrieved May 13, 2021. ^ "Film and TV Projects Going Into Production - Enola Holmes Sequel". Variety Insight. Archived from the original on May 14, 2021. Retrieved May 14, 2021. ^ Lang, Brent (July 20, 2022). "Inside Movie Stars' Salaries: Joaquin Phoenix Nabs $20M for 'Joker 2,' Tom Cruise Heads to Over $100M and More". Variety. Archived from the original on July 20, 2022. Retrieved July 23, 2022. ^ Vassell, Nicole (July 21, 2022). "Millie Bobby Brown "makes history" with $10m salary for Enola Holmes sequel on Netflix". The Independent. Archived from the original on November 8, 2022. Retrieved November 8, 2022. ^ Cook, Laurence (June 18, 2021). "Enola Holmes' 2 and More UK Productions are Greenlit + Soon Casting". Backstage.com. Archived from the original on June 18, 2021. Retrieved November 2, 2021. ^ Jonathan Pritchard (October 5, 2021). "City streets transformed as filming of Enola Holmes 2 begins in Yorkshire". Yorkshirepost.co.uk. Archived from the original on November 1, 2021. Retrieved November 2, 2021. ^ "Henry Cavill spotted on Hull set of Netflix film Enola Holmes 2". October 4, 2021. Archived from the original on October 4, 2021. Retrieved October 4, 2021. ^ King, Aidan (November 29, 2021). "Enola Holmes 2': Henry Cavill Wraps Filming on Sequel". Collider. Archived from the original on November 29, 2021. Retrieved November 29, 2021. ^ DeVore, Britta (January 7, 2022). "'Enola Holmes 2' Wraps Filming, Millie Bobby Brown and Louis Partridge Celebrate". Collider.com. Archived from the original on April 13, 2022. Retrieved February 4, 2022. ^ Gruenwedel, Erik (November 8, 2022). "Netflix: 'Enola Holmes 2' Tops Weekly Streaming Through Nov. 6". Archived from the original on November 9, 2022. Retrieved November 9, 2022. ^ "Enola Holmes 2". Rotten Tomatoes. Fandango Media. Retrieved July 28, 2023. ^ "Enola Holmes 2". Metacritic. Fandom, Inc. Retrieved July 10, 2023. ^ July, Beandrea (November 2, 2022). "'Enola Holmes 2' Review: A Clever Force of Nature". The New York Times. Archived from the original on November 2, 2022. ^ Gyarkye, Lovia (October 28, 2022). "'Enola Holmes 2' Review: Millie Bobby Brown and Henry Cavill Star in Baggy Netflix Sequel". The Hollywood Reporter. Archived from the original on November 5, 2022. Retrieved November 5, 2022. ^ Benjamin Lee (October 28, 2022). "Enola Holmes 2 review - Netflix's spirited mystery sequel for teens". The Guardian. Archived from the original on June 3, 2023. Retrieved November 5, 2022. ^ Collin, Robbie (November 3, 2022). "Enola Holmes 2, review: a case of cheap looking action and not enough heart". The Telegraph. Archived from the original on November 3, 2022. ^ Kimberly Nordyke (March 4, 2023). "Wednesday, Sonic the Hedgehog 2, Taylor Swift, Harry Styles Among Winners at 2023 Kids' Choice Awards". The Hollywood Reporter. Archived from the original on March 5, 2023. Retrieved March 5, 2023. ^ Ntim, Zac (May 8, 2023). "Irish Film & TV Awards Winners: 'Bad Sisters' & 'The Banshees of Inisherin' Sweep Top Honors". Deadline Hollywood. Archived from the original on June 11, 2023. Retrieved July 28, 2023. ^ Amin, Arezou (November 7, 2023). "Enola Holmes 3 Is in Development at Netflix". Collider. Archived from the original on November 8, 2023. Retrieved November 10, 2023. ^ Kroll, Justin (November 7, 2023). "Enola Holmes 3: Philip Barantini To Direct Netflix And Legendary Sequel". Deadline Hollywood. Retrieved December 14, 2024. ^ Calnan, Ellie (April 11, 2025). "Netflix's 'Enola Holmes 3' begins filming in UK". Screen. Retrieved April 14, 2025. ^ Ritman, Alex (April 22, 2025). "'Enola Holmes 3' Set at Netflix; Millie Bobby Brown, Henry Cavill, Louis Partridge and More Returning". Variety. Retrieved April 23, 2025. Enola Holmes 2 at IMDb Enola Holmes 2 on Netflix Retrieved from "